THE PUNAHOU SPIRIT.

It is little wonder that the Punahou boys play winning games in football with such a bevy of pretty and enthusiastic rooters. Their side-line yells of encouragement and smiles and screeches of delight are as much a part of the mighty struggle on the gridiron as passing the ball from center to quarter. And when the young misses are particularly pretty, the game is won.

Overture—Fra Diavolo Auber
Intermezzo—Rainbow Weinrich
Selection—The Madame Angot Lecocq

The Star Spangled Banner.

Draws Pictures and Sings.

Bengough, the noted Canadian entertainer who appears here on Tuesday afternoon and evening, November 9, is said to be the most versatile artist on the concert platform today, for in addition to being a cartoonist, he is a mimic, a singer, and a comedian. A man with a world-wide reputation, it is said of him that "He's a whole entertainment in himself." Commenting on Bengough the Melbourne Punch says: "The new comer, apart from his cleverness with colored crayons, is a first-class and most novel entertainer. When he is not 'doing things' in the sketch and caricature line Bengough recites, tells comic stories, and discourses humorously on things in general. He also gave a fine burlesque singing number, while working off a yarn about an American tenor with Italian affectations." Honolulu has never had such a treat as Bengough will serve them at the opera-house.

The Bonine.

There is a variety of interesting scenes at The Bonine tonight. New local scenes of the Japanese athletic art of kintjitsu and wrestling, and a most entertaining lot of genre subjects entitled "Snapshots" in Japan—depicting the quaint scenes and customs of carnival time when the cherry blossom comes—and as a diversion—a lot of beautiful optical slides in color of various odd things and places throughout the island empire.

There are many other odd things from the States and Europe to be seen, and a repetition of the very popular surfboard riding scenes of Waikiki.
